BRAZIL YOGA AND SURF VACATIONS

MULTIPLE DATES FOR INDEPENDENT TRAVEL: 2010-201

Overview

This yin and yang of Brazil tours is a combination of yoga and surfing on the island paradise of Florianopolis off Brazil's southern coast. In the province of Santa Catarina, Florida, as it is locally known, is famous for its surfing competitions that attract participants from around the world. Because of its many beaches, the island is the perfect place to learn to surf or polish your skills, whatever your level of expertise.

Enjoy two-hour surfing lessons at popular Santa Catarina surfing locales: Campeche, Joaquina or Barra, on the east side of the island. These beaches are perfect for lessons because they are protected from the big undulations that hit the island's coast from the south. The beginner lessons focus on basic skills and safety. Intermediate surfers will learn how to turn the board, to drop or take off and other maneuvers on the wave. Advanced surfers will concentrate on techniques for negotiating challenging waves and most likely explore areas with more difficult breaks.

All participants will be taught about this new environment of sea and currents. Your five, hour-and-a-half long Ashtanga Vinyasa yoga lessons will be taught by an English-speaking master instructor who has trained in various locations around the globe. Balance these activities with excursions to the local restaurants, bars, and music venues with a local nightlife guide.

Private Departures can be arranged. Please contact us regarding details and private departure costs.

Note: Changes in weather or road conditions and other safety factors may necessitate modifications to the itinerary.
